18 months ago Joe was

knocked down

by a car. 34 people picked him up.

2 of them were nurses. There was the A & E nurse who took the call from the ambulance and decided which tests Joe needed there and then, so the trauma team would have their information without delay.

The theatre nurse who held Joe's hand as he was rushed in unconscious. The paediatric nurse who reassured his parents by explaining the operation. Joe's favourite nurse, the one he gave a big hug to when he left hospital. And the children's community nurse who popped in to change his dressing once he was home.

The nursing team is the living heart of the NHS. It's responsible for putting thousands of Joes back on their feet every day. As a nurse you're a talker, a listener, a manager, a comedian, a diplomat, a skilled professional and a warm human being. (Did you think it was pointless to hold an unconscious child's hand? You're not a nurse).

Every second is important. Every day is different. Every effort is vital. Sound like hard work? It is challenging. However you'll find the NHS is improving, investing in more staff, modern equipment and new hospitals.

And the pay is getting better. In fact, from April a newly qualified full-time nurse will earn at least £14,890 p.a.

If you think you could be a nurse, or if you're interested in returning to nursing, please call us now.

When dark forces cause the fantasy kingdoms to cross into the real world, Virginia and Tony must fight for life as they know it.

'When you re-read fairy tales as an adult they don't seem to scare you like they did when you were a child, but I wanted to find a way of taking adults into that world,' says Simon Moore, writer of Sky One's landmark fantasy drama.

No expense was spared to bring this fantastical family adventure series to life, with state-of-the-art special effects and guest appearances from Ann-Margret as Cinderella and Rutger Hauer as the Huntsman.

the changing face of cate

Her ability to tackle the most challenging roles has directors queuing up to work with her. With the premiere of Elizabeth on FilmFour Lucy Ryan stands in line to court the favour of Cate Blanchett

Cate Blanchett is a special kind of star. You won't find her in the gossip columns. You won't find her in fashionable bars and restaurants. You won't even find her promoting her latest role. In fact for one so bright and beautiful you may have trouble finding her at all!

She doesn't dismiss the glitz and glamour of being one of the world's most coveted actresses. It's just the whole fame thing tends to get in the way of the craft she takes very seriously. Despite her Oscar nomination, Best Actress Bafta and Golden Globe for her role in Elizabeth Cate remains focussed on her work: 'All that award stuff was a distraction,' she says. 'A pleasant distraction, but still a distraction.'

The fact that the industry's most respected directors are clamouring to work with 30-year-old Cate is due not only to her talent but the way she has used it. After graduating from drama school in 1992 she rapidly established herself as a stage actress of rare presence and versatility. Then came her movie break as the gutsy nurse in Japanese POW camp drama Paradise Road. However it was her powerful performance in Oscar And Lucinda that brought her to the attention of director Shekhar Kapur who was looking for the actress capable of playing the lead in his latest project, Elizabeth. When he saw Cate at work he knew he'd found his queen. 'I was totally fascinated by her because that's how I saw Elizabeth. Very ethereal but with a certain fire in her eyes.'

And so it was that Australian Cate landed the role of a lifetime playing the English monarch torn between affairs of state and affairs of the heart. To get to grips with her character and the complex political intrigue Cate threw herself into researching her subject. The physical transformation into the imposing Virgin Queen was equally demanding. 'It was like preparing to go into battle,' she says. 'They shaved an inch off my hairline, they bleached this big band of my hair white and the rest was red. I had no eyebrows and they bleached my eyelashes!'

It took months for her hair to recover, but Cate's extraordinary performance as Elizabeth turned her into a household name overnight. Despite a flood of lucrative offers she confirmed her chameleon reputation with such diverse roles as the trashy housewife in air traffic control caper Pushing Tin to a sophisticated socialite in Anthony Minghella's The Talented Mr Ripley. 'They weren't enormous roles,' says Cate, 'but they're the ones that interested me.'

Even more interesting is Cate's future. Look out for her as a Russian cabaret dancer alongside Johnny Depp in The Man Who Cried and as a small-town psychic menaced by Keanu Reeves in The Gift. Add to that her roles in the forthcoming Lord Of The Rings trilogy, Minghella's latest project Cold Mountain and the rumours of her being offered the part of FBI agent Clarice Starling in the long-awaited sequel to The Silence Of The Lambs. With the movie world fawning at her feet it seems that the Australian queen of England has become the rightful heir to the Hollywood throne.

Elizabeth premieres on FilmFour on Saturday 8 April at 10pm

TENNIS FANS ARE IN FOR A TREAT. WITH ONsport 1'S EXCLUSIVE ATP TENNIS MASTERS SERIES COVERAGE ADDED TO OUR LINE-UP WE'RE NOW SERVING UP THE BEST TENNIS ACTION AROUND

Exclusive and new to ONsport 1 the ATP Tennis Masters Series presented by Mercedes-Benz is the highlight of the professional tennis circus outside the big four Grand Slam events – Wimbledon, the US Open, the French Open and the Australian Open. This year the new-look ATP challenge sees the best men's players in the world competing for crucial rankings points as never before.

With the ATP World Masters Series, formerly known as the Mercedes Super Nines, the top players can enter the nine events to secure twice as many vital rankings points. The action began at Indian Wells in March and as Miami draws to a close, the battle for points is already proving fierce.

To add to the excitement there's a new ATP Champions Race which will run for the calendar year. All players start with zero points and at the end of the year the eight players with most points earn the right to play in the World Championship in November.

Will Brits Tim Henman or Greg Rusedski make it through to the final eight? Find out only with ONsport 1.

the man to beat

Andre Agassi: The come-back kid is at his world-beating best. Having slumped to number 141 in 1997 the 30-year-old American favourite is back at the top, having knocked Pete Sampras off his pedestal. He's already one of only five players to have won all four Grand Slam titles and some reckon he can do it again this year, having already stormed into 2000 with a stunning display of athleticism and victory at the Australian Open. Off court, meanwhile, all eyes are on his ongoing love match with ladies tennis legend Steffi Graf.

the best of british

ONsport 1's ATP coverage will pay particular attention to home-grown hopefuls Tim Henman and Greg Rusedski. They've both proved they are capable of greatness... Could this be the year for the big hitting Brits?

Greg Rusedski

Born: 6/9/73, Montreal, Canada

Residence: Chelsea, London

Height: 6ft 3in

Plays: Left handed

Turned pro: 1991

Highest singles ranking:

World number 4

[October 6, 1997]

Marital status:

Married to Lucy Connor

Form: After an enforced lay-off earlier this year on due to a foot operation, Greg is back and firing on all cylinders. Almost. Already armed with the fastest recorded serve in the world (149mph), if he can fine tune his ground-strokes

Greg could be a real contender this year.

Tim Henman

Born: 6/9/74, Oxford, UK

Residence: Barnes, London

Height: 6ft 1in

Plays: Right handed

Turned pro: 1993

Highest singles ranking:

World number 5 (July 26, 1999)

Marital status: Married to Lucy Heald

Form: As his record proves, two-time Wimbledon semi-finalist Tim is hard to beat on fast surfaces when his serve is hot. His stamina and fitness are in no doubt - if his forehand improves, his serve stays steady and his mental resolve holds he could go all the way.

five to watch

Pete Sampras: Pistol Pete is determined to win back his number one spot from Agassi. Only a fool would bet against the best athlete and all-round player in the game's history.

Yevgeny Kafelnikov (right): solid, reliable and capable of remorseless power and accuracy, the determined Russian can be a match for anyone. But can he hold under pressure?

Marc Rosset: the wild-eyed, wild-haired Swiss is on a winning streak. Having already bagged titles earlier in the year, he's taking the rankings by storm and at 6ft 7in is a giant slayer in every sense.

Lleyton Hewitt: the teen phenomenon from Down Under has the flair and talent to take him to the top. And with his 'Every time I go out onto the court I feel like I can't lose' attitude he's not short on confidence either.

Pat Rafter (below): after a shoulder injury that ended a run of 26 Grand Slam events, the affable Aussie is back. He's fresh and hungry and looking to re-establish his former glory.

get ready to grand slam

The French Open: the ultimate clay court challenge. Will Agassi win again? And with an open field of fiery ladies, who will step into the shoes of retired reigning champion Steffi Graf?

British Eurosport and BBC Choice from 29 May

Wimbledon: six-time champion Pistol Pete Sampras (right) is going for a record-breaking seventh title.

Meanwhile in the Ladies Singles powerhouse American trooper Lindsey Davenport will be gunning for a second consecutive victory.

BBC Choice, 26 June-9 July

Most people carriers can't carry six people and their luggage.

Shock new finding: People carry luggage. So why don't most people carriers? The answer's in the question - they're just people carriers. Mainly because they're based on the rather olde worlde layout of two in the front, three in the back.

So if you want to carry more people - no problem, just remove all the luggage, fit a couple of seats and get them to sit in the boot. Brilliant.

And now for something completely different. The Multipla's three in the front, three in the back layout means you can carry six people and still have room for 430 litres of luggage.

Introducing the first people and luggage carrier, Multipla for short. The range starts at a very affordable £13,381 on the road, with flexible finance available. For more information on Top Gear's Car of the Year and Best Family Car call 0800 71 7000 www.fiat.co.uk

Batman forever!

Holy Guacamole! Batman is back. Editor Matt Beaven brushes the dust off his Batsuit and prepares for the return of the original caped crusader on Granada Plus

DO YOU HAVE TO fight the urge to answer the phone 'Yes Commissioner?' Do you refer to strangers as 'citizen' and friends as 'old chum'? Have you ever covered your phone with a glass cake cover? If the answer to any of these questions is 'yes' then like me the chances are you grew up a follower of cult sixties show Batman.

Batman, the series, had it all. Cool gadgets, great baddies, crazy plots, over-the-top sets and, in Adam West (Batman) and Dick Grayson (Robin), two actors able to bring the comic book characters to life.

When the show was first broadcast in January 1966 it was a revelation. Colour television was still in its infancy, but Batman's producers resolved to push it to the limits. Weird camera angles were combined with pop art-inspired flashes across the screen – Bam, Kerpow and Biff!

But there were risks. Although Batman had been around as a comic book hero since 1939, Superman outweighed him in the popularity stakes. The show's regular characters were relative unknowns. Schedules were tight and the filming had to be done at a break-neck pace.

But William Dozier, one of the TV show's producers, was determined it would be a hit. Already with a number of sixties successes under his belt, including nose-twitching Bewitched, in Batman he saw the potential to pull in an audience of young and old viewers alike.

With some clever marketing and the right chemistry on set he was soon proved right, and it wasn't long before anyone who was anyone was queueing up to appear in the show. In its first season it shot to number five in the American TV ratings. Batmania swept the US and soon the rest of the world.

It ran for three seasons – 120 episodes in all. In the process many of the cast became household names. But with this many shows in just three years, not surprisingly it soon ran out of steam. The last episode was shown in the US on 14 March 1968.

Yet Batmania lives on. In the eighties and nineties Michael Keaton and George Clooney introduced the cloaked superhero to a new generation, but for me they will never replace the kitsch cool of the original. Adam West himself, now 72, doesn't rule out one last go in the Batsuit: 'It would be a challenge and a pleasure to drop back into the Batcave, brush away the cobwebs and dust off the Batmobile...' A whole generation of Batpeople awaits with bated breath. O

NETWORK PREMIERE There's Something About Mary

Starring Cameron Diaz, Matt Dillon and Ben Stiller

The guys who brought you Dumb And Dumber and Kingpin return with another laugh-fest full of juvenile humour and manic, electric energy. Mary (Diaz, right with Ben Stiller) is the beautiful, young thing who instills deep affection in every male she meets, not least Ted Stroehmann (Stiller), who has loved her since high school and who fires a prison detective to find her 13 years later. But the private eye (Dillon) is about as trustworthy as a double-crossing rattlesnake, especially after he too falls for Mary's charms. What really makes the thing so hilarious is the jaw-dropping lack of taste. So wind back to your adolescence and enjoy the fun.

NETWORK PREMIERE Elizabeth

Starring Cate Blanchett, Kathy Burke and Joseph Fiennes

Spirited portrayal of the early years of Queen Bess's life, with Cate Blanchett mesmerising in the central role as the young princess initially adrift in the male-dominated world of the Court, with its intrigues, back-stabbing and artful careerists. Supported by a class cast (and the odd appearance from the likes of Eric Cantona) this is Elizabethan England as we hoped it to be: dark, dangerous and thrilling.

FilmFour, Saturday 8 April, 10pm; Monday 17 April, 8pm; Friday 28 April, 10pm

Did you know?

To achieve the imposing appearance of the Virgin Queen, Cate had to spend three hours in make up each day

NETWORK PREMIERE

The Truman Show

Starring Jim Carrey, Ed Harris and Natascha McElhone

From its much-copied movie poster to its simple, ingenious premise, this was the deserved smash hit of 1998, with all-American nice guy Truman Burbank (Carrey) gradually realising that his entire life is a sham – and that he's the star of the world's biggest TV show.

Fiercely original, wonderfully inventive and deeply thought-provoking. Highly recommended.

Sky Premier, Saturday 1 April, 8pm and 11.50pm; Friday 7 April, 10am and 8pm

NETWORK PREMIERE

A Perfect Murder

Starring Michael Douglas and Gwyneth Paltrow (both below)

A wealthy trader learns that his wife is having an affair with a painter and cuts a deal with the gold-digging lover to kill her for $500,000. In a brilliant set piece it all goes horribly wrong, opening up the field for a series of blackmails and double-crosses. This is a tight, no-nonsense thriller with a fabulous cast and some genuinely surprising twists.

Sky Premier, Saturday 29 April, 8pm

Cate Blanchett is caught between affairs of state and affairs of the heart in Elizabeth

Just when you thought it was safe to answer the door! Scream queen Jamie Lee Curtis finds herself back in the horror of Halloween: H20

Chloë Sevigny (right) and Kate Beckinsale face up to a changing world and the demise of the glitter ball in The Last Days of Disco

NETWORK PREMIERE The Last Days Of Disco

Starring Chloë Sevigny, Kate Beckinsale, Christopher Eigeman and Matthew Keeslar

It's the early eighties and Charlotte and Alice are put-upon office juniors by day and disco divas by night – grooving under the glittery ball as if their lives depended on it, and coming to terms with a changing world, dodgy guys and growing up. Director Whit Stillman is known as a relentlessly 'intelligent' film-maker, but here he has curbed his intellect to produce two hours of pure entertainment, sprinkled with humour, pathos and some wonderful seventies tunes.

Sky Premier, Tuesday 18 April, 10pm; Friday 28 April, 8pm

COMEDY

Peggy Sue Got Married

Starring Kathleen Turner, Nicolas Cage, Catherine Hicks and Barry Miller

A most unusual movie from Francis Ford Coppola, this is the wistful tale of Peggy Sue, a 43-year-old housewife facing divorce but magically allowed to travel back in time to her high school days in an attempt to reinvent her life.

Kathleen Turner is at the peak of her form and manages to pull together an occasionally nonsensical plot with sterling support from a young and appealingly manic Nicolas Cage (Coppola's nephew, fact fans).

Carlton Cinema, Saturday 8 April, 9pm and 3am

Did you know?

This movie features early appearances from Joan Allen, Helen Hunt and Jim Carrey

HORROR

NETWORK PREMIERE Halloween: H20

Starring Jamie Lee Curtis and Adam Arkin

Jamie Lee Curtis reprises her role as Laurie Strode from the original Halloween. Now a struggling, alcoholic single mum she's dogged by dreams and visions of the diabolical Michael Myers (revealed as her brother in the first sequel). Far better than many of the Halloween sequels of the last 20 years, this allows itself the humour that Scream enjoyed so much.

Sky MovieMax, Wednesday 12 April, 10pm; Monday 24 April, 10pm

Did you know?

The H20 in the title refers to the 20 years since the original Halloween, in fact it's the seventh sequel!

The Wicker Man

Starring Christopher Lee, Britt Ekland and Edward Woodward

For many years this was cut because of its realistic, harrowing nature, but here you can see it in all its absorbing glory. Woodward is a policeman sent to a remote Scottish island to investigate the disappearance of a young girl. What he finds is a near-pagan society getting up to all sorts of shenanigans. The movie is so brilliantly put together and chillingly effective at playing with your mind that you can't help thinking it could all be true.

FilmFour, Saturday 8 April, 12.05am; Thursday 20 April, 1.40am

The Juror

Starring Demi Moore and Alec Baldwin

Moore is Annie Laird, a struggling single mum called up for jury service in a Mafia trial, and singled out as the juror most likely to be pummelled into submission by dodgy mob man The Teacher (Baldwin). As Annie fights back to protect her family this superior courtroom thriller becomes the movie equivalent of a page-turner.

NETWORK AIRSPEED

Starring Joe Mantegna, Elisha Cuthbert and Charles Powell

A millionaire arranges for his troublesome daughter to take a trip on his private jet straight through an electrical storm that knocks out the pilot. The daughter is therefore left alone to fly the plane under the instructions of air traffic control. A familiar scenario admittedly, but the weird father-daughter relationship and a decent performance by young Elisha Cuthbert keep you on the edge of your seat.

Sky MovieMax, Sunday 9 April, 8pm

The Devil's Own

Starring Harrison Ford and Brad Pitt

Despite its politically contentious content, this is actually a standard cat-and-mouse thriller. Pitt is a hard-line IRA man, decamped to New York and staying with unsuspecting cop Harrison Ford. When he organises a shipment of weapons to Ireland the truth is revealed and Ford offers to bring the cad in alive.

KNOW THE GAME

ice hockey

Ice hockey may look like a fight with a game waiting to break out, but it is in fact an exciting, simple game if you know the rules:

- Both teams have six players on the ice with the aim of scoring more goals than the opposition
- To keep a fast pace substitutions are made frequently
- There are three 20-minute sessions of play
- Foul play comes in many forms, the main offences being

Boarding: body-checking elbowing or tripping a player into the boards

Roughing: blocking or impeding the progress of an opponent in an overly violent manner

Cross checking: a check (a push) delivered with both hands behind your back and in front of the stick

Hooking: impeding someone by hooking your stick around theirs

Spearing: a stick held with two hands and used in front of your body, not on the ice

High sticks: lifting your stick above shoulder height

A great confrontation in store. England's one-day triumph in Zimbabwe last winter was based on the stingingly accurate

Everton v Liverpool

One of the greatest derbies of the season between the Toffeemen in blue and the Red Men is guaranteed to split Merseyside. The result is all that matters. ## Q&A: Carl Fogarty

With four World Superbike Championship titles under his belt, Carl Fogarty talks about a life in the fast lane

Do you have to be mad to race bikes?

You have to be a bit mad. I'm mad and aggressive on the bike but off it I'm pretty laid back.

Do you ever tire of being the best in the world?

I won the Championship last year and that's all the motivation I need. Winning is what motivates me.

How do you feel about defending your championship titles?

I can't wait to ride down the pit lane with a big black "1" all over my bike.

Money or winning? What's best?

I like money but it's not what makes me race. Coming from around here [the north west], I don't go out and splash the cash. I'm not like that. Maybe I would be a bit more flash if I came from London.

So you don't indulge in luxury holidays?

I've gone around the Caribbean and that but there's only so much lying around in the sun I can take. I just get bored and can't wait to get home.

And the secret of your success?

The will to win and my lifestyle... beer, pies and a healthy social life. You can't live life to the fullest if you don't take a few risks and mine have paid off handsomely.

Mermaids

Myths of half-woman, half-fish creatures date to pre-Roman times and there are examples of 'merfolk' in almost every mythology. In their different manifestations they can either do good or cause pain and suffering. The British mermaid legend includes the idea that seals were not animals but beautiful faeries.

Piranha

The piranha's reputation as a marauding man-eater is undeserved. Of the 30 or so species of piranha only the red-bellied piranha, which hunts in packs, has been known to attack humans and animals, most live on a diet of fish.

You can see Hollywood's hysterical portrayal in Piranha on FilmFour at 10pm

COLD FEET ITV2 9pm

A combination of an all-star cast, including Helen Baxendale, and a sharply observed script made this one of the finest dramas of recent times. A tale of the shifting relationships between three young couples in Manchester, it successfully combines humour and pathos and has gained awards and critical plaudits in equal measure. Starting tonight is a chance to see both series in their entirety for the next two weeks. In tonight's episode a shared secret sparks off misunderstandings about a sexual problem with very funny results

With early season Super League supremacy at stake expect a very tight game.

ENTERTAINERS

Posh 'N' Becks

● Their home: A mansion in Hertfordshire. Becks therefore travels more than 200 miles to Manchester every day for training

● Her health: Posh has complained of dizzy spells and tiredness. Some people think she may have an eating disorder, others believe her to be diabetic

● His future: Posh told a radio station that she believed her husband would eventually play abroad but other rumours suggest he may sign for London club Arsenal

You can see Posh's Birthday Weekend on MTV from 3.30pm

FOCUS ON...

Trepanation

This controversial operation involves a small hole being drilled in the front of the skull (without going as far as touching the brain). The theory is that this increases the flow of blood to the brain and advocates believe that this gives heightened mental activity and a feeling of well-being.

You can learn more about trepanation in Hole In The Head on UK Horizons at 11pm

The Bose® Wave® radio/CD. When we designed the Wave radio/CD, we spent over a year making it one of the smallest, most compact systems available. One that fits almost anywhere. But despite all that, all anyone seems to talk about is how lifelike its sound is.

What they're really talking about is our patented Acoustic Wave® speaker technology. Its unique design means no other system can produce such room-filling sound from such a small enclosure. The result is music that's truly distinctive in its clarity and full, natural bass. So striking, the Oregonian called the Wave radio/CD "one of those little unexplained miracles of acoustic physics."

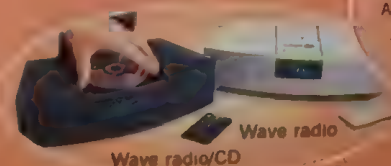

Experience the lifelike sound of the Bose Wave radio/CD for yourself. It's available directly from Bose, the most respected name in sound, and your satisfaction is guaranteed. Of course, the Wave radio is still available as well. When you call for either product, ask about our risk-free 30-day in-home trial, and our interest-free payment plan. And hear for yourself what everyone's talking about.

To think, all that time making it small, and all anyone talks about is how it sounds.

ONE FOOT IN THE GRAVE SPECIAL

UK Gold 9pm

A special episode starring ex Pymon and the writer of the show's theme tune Eric Idle. When a Health And Safety inspector (Idle) goes to inspect Victor's apparently radioactive allotment it's not the grave he's got one foot in, but something equally unpleasant and very smelly. Meanwhile, Victor's feud with next door neighbour Patrick (Angus Deayton) continues when Victor takes delivery of a cake bearing a rather rude word.

FOCUS ON...

Atlantis

In Greek mythology Atlantis was an island continent which disappeared into the sea following an earthquake. There is no geological evidence to suggest it actually existed, but the idea is not so far-fetched - earthquakes, volcanoes and tidal waves are known to have destroyed the Minoan empire of Crete around 1500BC.

You can learn more about the legend of Atlantis in Supernatural Science on UK Horizons at 10.15am

British Eurosport 9am

A panoply of colour hits the streets of the capital as 30,000 hardy souls struggle to complete the 26.2 mile course. The race is one of the premier events in the athletics calendar, with many top distance runners rubbing shoulders with the fun-runners. The men's race ought to be between Moroccan Abdekader El Mouaziz and Portugal's Antonio Pinto, while last year's champ Joyce Chepchumba is favourite in the women's race.

FOCUS ON...

Fire Brigade

After the great fire of London in 1666 insurance firms set up their own fire services to cut fire losses and they would only put out fires in buildings that bore the company's fire mark, but in the 19th century municipal fire brigades were formed and given state-of-the-art equipment.

See them in action in Firefighters on UK Horizons at 11am

FOCUS ON...

Old Fairy Tales

Many fairy tales have been sanitised over the years but were once quite gruesome.

• Cinderella The ugly sisters cut off their own toes to fit the slipper

• Red Riding Hood The girl was eaten by wolves

• Snow White The stepmother had to dance in red-hot iron shoes

See modern fairy tale The 10th Kingdom on Sky One at 7pm

FOCUS ON...

The Four Musketeers

Richard Lester's period romp was shot at the same time as his earlier The Three Musketeers on location in Spain. The actors sued him claiming that they'd been tricked into thinking they were only making one film. They won, but didn't get as much as they would have if they'd been paid for each film.

You can see The Four Musketeers on Carlton Cinema at 9pm

BEST FILM

ROBIN HOOD: PRINCE OF THIEVES

UK Gold 9pm

Entertaining action movie starring Kevin Costner, Morgan Freeman and Alan Rickman. After being captured by the Turks during the Crusades, Robin of Locksley (Costner) escapes from prison with friend Azeem (Freeman). Returning to England he finds his father has been murdered and the evil Sheriff of Nottingham has taken control. Escaping to Sherwood Forest he encounters a band of exiled villagers and together they plan to revolt. This version may have used artistic licence rather too much but it's still a great family movie and Alan Rickman completely steals the show as the diabolical Sheriff.

Rickman oozes evil as the Sheriff

Faust

The legend of the man who sold his soul to the devil in exchange for riches is believed to have originated with Georg Faust, a wandering conjuror in 16th-century Germany. The legend inspired poet Goethe and composer Berlioz to interpret the story in verse and music.

TRUE LIVES

King George III

The 'mad' monarch first showed signs of instability in 1788. Treatments included dousing him with poultices of Spanish fly and mustard to draw out the insanity! He was declared sane in 1789 but in 1811 his insanity became permanent and he died in January 1820. You can see The Madness Of King George on FilmFour at 8pm

FOCUS ON...

Studio 54

The legendary New York nightclub opened in 1977 and became the epicentre of disco chic. A strict door policy maintained the perfect mix of people and even many celebrities were denied access. In 1980 the owners were imprisoned for tax evasion and the club was wound up. You can see Studio 54: The Last Days Of Disco on Sky Premier at 8pm
